

RiverWorks

A Partnership for Stream & Wetland Restoration

RiverWorks is a team of restoration biologists, engineers and construction specialists from EnviroScience, GPD Group, and RiverReach Construction that provide design-build services for stream and wetland restoration. The RiverWorks partners combine their respective technical strengths in biology, engineering and construction to provide a truly multidisciplinary approach to restoration. The result is an unparalleled collaboration of talents dedicated to ecological restoration since 2007.

The exclusive design-build partnership of RiverWorks is a highly qualified team in Northeast Ohio. We continually deliver projects despite difficult access, working conditions and stormy weather. Our team's ability to overcome obstacles and develop creative, feasible solutions that are functional from a hydraulic, biologic and morphologic capacity, qualify RiverWorks as an excellent team and valuable asset to our clients. Our accomplishments to date are due to both to our passion for ecosystem restoration and our exemplary qualified team that collaborates during all phases of the project. Our exclusive design-build partnership promotes the value of a multidisciplinary approach in addressing the challenges of recreating natural eco-systems and working in dynamic streams and floodplains.

The best representation of our experience is in our completed work. RiverWorks is proud of each project and stands behind our contribution to the watershed. Our projects have ranged from small ephemeral streams and vernal pools to large rivers and lake beds. We have worked in a wide range of urban and rural environments, stream gradients, utility and structural constraints as well as weather conditions.
